Netball Superleague Sponsorship 2017

- 600,000 viewers on Sky Sports in 2016
- 7,600 attendees at Super Saturday 2016
- 1,000 capacity arena for 2017 home games
- Large female audience
- The only netball franchise in the North East

Team Northumbria compete in the biggest women's sport competition that is televised in the UK; the Vitality Netball Superleague has weekly live games on Sky Sports plus plenty of coverage across the Sky Sports network including their weekly magazine show, Sportswomen.

The league has grown in recent years and 2017 will see the entry of three new franchises, meaning there will be more games, more coverage and a stronger level of competition for our top elite players who have made the North East and Team Northumbria their home for 2017.

By sponsoring one of our players or taking advantage of our match-day sponsorship, your message can reach new audiences encouraging them to engage with your business, giving you a stron and meaningful return on investment.

We are the only female sport team in the North East with regular TV coverage and netball is becoming a real talking point across the sporting world. There is no time like the present to get involved with this vastly popular sport amongst women and girls.
